HatchSpace, Inc.

HatchSpace is a community-supported facility dedicated to preserving the artistry of woodworkers through the advancement of traditional and contemporary woodworking skills and methods.

Vermont and New England face a shortage of skilled labor in the trades and a once-in-a-lifetime transfer of generational knowledge in woodworking.

HatchSpace exists to help solve this problem by offering inclusive training and life-long learning in carpentry and fine woodworking.

Unbeatable Facility

- Unmatched location in the heart of Brattleboro, a vibrant regional creative hub.
- Five well-equipped shops across 8,000SF of industrial space. Enough tools to teach any class and get projects done.
- A mix of hand tools, power tools, equipment and CNC tools to support beginning and advanced skills.

Inclusion and Community

- Novice to advanced woodworkers help one another with feedback, technical advice and support, and mentorship.
- Instructors provide one-on-one and group training to students and members alike, helping to move projects from idea through to completion.
- Partners bring new audiences and new programming into HatchSpace through a shared mission and local collaboration.

Local Impact

- Advance workforce development by attracting talent to the region, offering classes that build workplace skills, and form partnerships with local employers.
- Outreach activities that enhance STEAM learning goals, offering hands-on learning programs for families, schools, and youth serving partners.
- Lessen risks of isolation, boredom and depression by creating spaces for meaningful social contact.

With your support, HatchSpace will serve Brattleboro and the region as a lasting resource for hands-on creativity and lifelong learning, contributing to the economic and cultural vibrancy of our community.
